

Task 3

You are now going to order coffee and something to eat from la ventanita! For this task, you and your partner will each take turns ordering as the client, and then writing down what the client wants. You can use your handout as a guide for vocabulary help. You will have to report on what your partner ordered, and may be called to repeat this task in front of the class.

It is important to do your best on this task because for your final assessment task, you will put in an order at the ventanita, but with no handout support!
